

The Black and White Day

The Black and White Day went as anyone could have wished: a good crowd of Scottish, West Highland and Cairn Terriers and their owners turned up and fun was had by all. There were the usual games for the dogs and a quiz for the more haphazardly-bred in attendance. Any owner who can trace his/her ancestry back to an amoebic protoplasmic globule, as all the dogs can do, is of course not included in the haphazard group, but was still graciously allowed in the quiz. The lunch was good as and plentiful as ever, with The Scots non-pedigreed providing sausages and corned beef, and the other haphazards the salads and what Nancy Mitford in U-usage would have called 'pudding'. There was plenty of what the MG Car Club calls regalia for sale, and a very generous raffle. Altogether a good time was had by all - the dogs and even the owners mixed very sociably!

We will, no doubt, continue with the traditional 'Black and White' name even with the proliferation of Brindles and Wheatens.

Jim Henderson

The usual mix of Dogs, Humans and food!

The Bone and Spoon Race

Dunking Dogs, always a favourite

Winners of the maze

Best dressed Scottie

The Quiz

Scottie Tricks

And a birthday (Kathryn Smith)! The trading table did brisk trade taking $306.50 and the giant raffle raised another $195.00. As a bonus, Camille Martin donated a beautiful PartyLite candle arrangement which raised another $102 in a separate raffle.